PROSPECTUS

OF

SAINT BENEDICT'S COLLEGE,

ATCHISON, KANSAS.

This institution, conducted by members of the Order of St. Benedict, was founded by the Rev. T. Augustine Wirth, O. S. B., in the year 1859. On the 28th of June, 1868, it was incorporated under the laws of the State of Kansas, and empowered to confer degrees and academical honors, and to exercise the rights and privileges common to other literary institutions of the United States.

The location of the College is delightful and healthy, commanding a magnificicent view of the Missouri River and the surrounding country. The buildings are large and commodious. The grounds are extensive, and, at all seasons, afford ample facilities for outdoor amusement and healthful exercise.

The railroad system of Atchison is now such as to leave but little to be desired, since not fewer than eight separate railroads centre, and have their termini, in Atchison. The facility of reaching Atchison makes the College readily accessible from all the surrounding States and Territories.

The object of this institution is to impart to young men a thorough education, which will make them capable of filling any situation in life. For the purpose of improving themselves in public speaking, and for the discussion of subjects relating to the Laws of Nature, Ethics, etc., etc., the students form literary societies, provided with a well-selected library, to which they have access during leisure hours.

Test exercises are given every month in the several branches of study taught in each class, the standard being twenty merit-notes. The result of these competitions is registered in a book kept for that purpose, so that by applying to the President or Vice-President, parents may, at any time, know the standing of their sons in class. At the close of the scholastic year, the merit notes received for all the monthly exercises on each subject-matter are added together, and a premium is awarded to the student who has obtained the highest number.

At the expiration of every quarter, bulletins are sent to parents or guardians, to inform them of the health, conduct, and proficiency of their sons or wards.

To cultivate the heart, to form and cherish good habits, to prevent evil ones; in fine, to exercise a truly parental care over the morals of the pupils, no less than over their intellectual and physical development, are paramount duties kept constantly and sacredly in view by the Fathers.

SYSTEM OF INSTRUCTION.

The plan of instruction embraces two regular and distinct courses—the Classical and Commercial.

The Classical Course is designed to impart a thorough knowledge of the English, Latin, and Greek languages; of Mental and Moral Philosophy; of Pure and Mixed Mathematics: and of the Physical Sciences. It is completed in six years. The students in this course are divided, according to their proficiency, into six classes, which correspond with the six years of the course.

COURSE OF STUDIES FOR THE CLASSICAL DEPARTMENT.

FIRST YEAR—Grammar.

Latin Grammar, Hist. Sacra, English Grammar, Latin and English exercises, Orthography, History of the Bible, Geography of North and South America, Arithmetic, Penmanship.

SECOND YEAR—Syntax.

Latin Grammar (Syntax), Nepos' Lives, Viri Romæ, English Grammar, Punctuation, Elocution, Latin and English exercises, Arithmetic, History of the United States, Geography of Europe, Penmanship.

THIRD YEAR—Humanities.

Latin Grammar (Syntax continued) and Prosody, Cæsar, Salust, Ovid, Greek Grammar, Latin, Greek and English exercises, Algebra, Ancient History, and Geography.

FOURTH YEAR—Poetry.

Latin Grammar (Syntaxis Ornata), Versification, Livy, Virgil, Horace's Odes, Greek Grammar (Syntax and Prosody), Xenophon's Anabasis, Homer, exercises in Latin and Greek, English Composition and Literature, Geometry, Algebra, Mediæval History, and Geography.

FIFTH YEAR—Rhetoric.

Precepts of Rhetoric, Oratorical Composition, Debates, Cicero's and Demosthenes' Orations, Horace's Epistles and Satires, Sophocles' Tragedies, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Algebra continued, Trigonometry, Modern History.

SIXTH YEAR—Philosophy.

Logic, Metaphysics, Ethics, History of Philosophy, a cursory reading of Cicero's philosophical works, Differential Calculus, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry.

COMMERCIAL COURSE.

The object of the Commercial Course is to impart to young men a thorough commercial or business education. It embraces English Grammar, Composition, Elocution, Rhetoric, Commercial Law, Book-keeping, Arithmetic, Algebra, Natural Philosophy, Geometry, Geography, History, and Penmanship, and is completed in three years.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

There is, besides, a Preparatory Department for younger students, in which they are carefully taught Spelling, Writing, English Grammar, Geography, History, and Arithmetic, so as to prepare them for the Classical Course of the College.

It will be required of each student to pursue the regular course, as experience has proved exemptions in this regard to have been a source of great inconvenience.

Appropriate instructions in Christian Doctrine are given throughout the entire course.

The German and French languages, as well as Vocal and Instrumental Music and Drawing, are elective studies, and form, with the exception of German, extra charges.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

The Academical Year consists of two sessions of five months each—the first beginning on the first Monday of September, and ending on the first of February; the second beginning on the first of February, and ending about the last of June, with a public exhibition, the conferring of Diplomas and Degrees, and the distribution of Premiums.

Toward the end of January and June, there is a private examination of all the classes.

No student will be received for a shorter period than one session—five months.

No student will be permitted to leave the College on visits of any length, except at the great vacation—July and August—and from the 23d day of December to the 3d of January, if such be the wishes of his parents or guardian.

No one will be allowed to leave the precincts of the College, except in company with a Tutor or Prefect.

All letters, papers, books, etc., sent or received by students, are subject to the inspection of the President or his substitute.

The use of tobacco is positively prohibited; such as can not discontinue the use of it will not be admitted.

Violations of the established discipline of the College are suppressed in a mild but effective manner. Should any student prove refractory or immoral, in spite of all efforts to correct him, he will be sent back to his parents or guardian.

Students whose parents live in the vicinity of the College are allowed to visit them but once a month.

When a student is admitted, he is examined by the Prefect of Studies and placed in the class which his previous attainments have qualified him to enter.

Wearing Apparel.—Every student must be provided with three suits of clothes; six shirts and three flannel shirts; two long night-gowns,; eight pairs of stockings; three pairs of shoes; a white counterpane; two blankets and pillows; two cotton clothes bags; four napkins and towels; three pairs of sheets; all articles necessary for toilet; knife and fork, tea and table spoon; one metal cup.

Measures have already been adopted for the establishment of a Library, a Museum, Scientific Collections, including Minerals, to most of which donations have already been made. Contributions in the way of suitable books for the Library, Minerals and other curiosities for the Museum, are respectfully solicited from every friend of education.

Regular exercises, adapted to promote the health, cheerfulness and physical development of the pupils, are made an ordinary part of school studies.

The managers of St. Benedict's College consider themselves not merely engaged in the business of Instruction, but also and chiefly in that of education. To further this object, the time of the pupils is fully and systematically occupied. Every hour brings its appropriate arrangements, of devotion, exercise, study, recreation, rest, etc. They conceive that education does not consist only in acquiring, or in unfolding the reasoning faculties, or in cultivating the moral feelings, or in developing the physical powers, and in forming the manners and habits; but principally in the instruction and practice of religion, the true foundation of education—the source of real happiness.

DEGREES.

On the completion of the Classical Course, the degree of A. B. is conferred upon such students as, upon examination, are found worthy of that distinction. The candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts must undergo an examination in Rational and Natural Philosophy, Astronomy, and Chemistry, and must be well acquainted with Latin, Greek, German, or French, and Mathematics. He is also required to write a speech or essay on a literary, scientific or moral subject, a copy of which must be left at the College. If he remain in College and pursue the higher branches of Rational and Natural Philosophy, or if he graduate in any learned profession after completing the above course of collegiate studies, he may receive the degree of Master of Arts.
